

TOTAL ART

Klimt dreamt of total works of art, where painting, sculpture, architecture, and music come together and enhance each other. Something similar to what you can see in this exhibition here.

The only thing missing here is the sculpture. Strike a pose that suits the Klimt exhibition and take a photo of it!

GUSTAV KLIMT

The Austrian artist Gustav Klimt (1862-1918) is world-famous nowadays. His most well-known painting, "The Kiss," is featured on sneakers, mugs, neckties, and even toilet seats.

FRIEDENSREICH HUNDERTWASSER

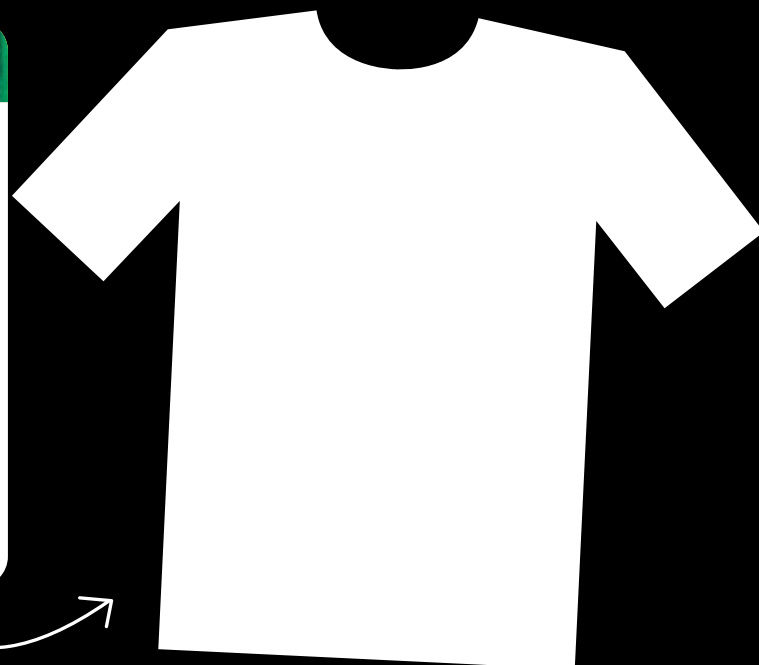

Hundertwasser (1922-2000) was a painter, architect, designer, and environmental activist. His artworks are strongly influenced by the work of Klimt.

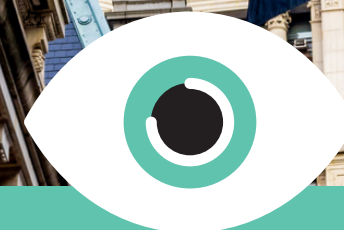

FASHION TERROR

Hundertwasser hated fashion! According to him, you should only wear clothes that you find beautiful, not what everyone else finds beautiful. His homemade clothes were like his art: never symmetrical, with flowing lines and no rigid shapes.

Observe the exhibition for 2 minutes. Design a T-shirt in the style of Hundertwasser.
